FUTURE HOME FOR AGAPE LES CAYES, HAITI

OUR MISSION

When teenagers age out of an orphanage, their biggest fear is the unknown that lingers outside the gates of familiarity, love, and a home. They lack someone there to guide them in some of life's most difficult decisions. Imagine not having help obtaining a job, or finding housing, or knowing what step to take next (i.e. additional school, vocational opportunities, etc.)

Agape to the Nations is here to help the teenagers transition from the unknowns of life into a place where our teens feel empowered to seize the world in front of them. Through our transitional homes we equip, encourage and empower the teens to become godly productive citizens of Haiti. We do this by helping them finish their education, learn trade and life skills, and help them grow in their faith by learning biblical truth and discipleship training.

DID YOU KNOW?

- There are estimated to be about 760 orphanages in Haiti
- About 32,000 children in Haiti live in orphanages
- By Haitian law, on their 18th birthday children "age out" of orphan care
- Recent studies show youth who grow up in institutions are 40 times more likely to commit crimes, 10 times more likely to enter prostitution, & 500 times more likely to commit suicide.
